

I am overcome with confusion and sadness in the latest pandering to big business that seems to be taking place in our great state of Indiana.

I am pro-government, pro-individual rights and pro-business. However, I am AGAINST the idea of the FCC implementing ANY proposal that would lessen the well designed Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law and its' protections.

I can't begin to express joy our family has experienced not receiving calls while sitting down for family dinner at the dinner table. I directly support Indiana's Telephone Privacy law and credit this law for having improved the QUALITY of time I spend (since quantity had to find) at home with family. This is something that no company or politician should attempt to take from me...our fast paced society takes enough away from family-time and family values.

The existing failsafe approach to the often numerous calls I used to receive has proven VERY EFFECTIVE since now I receive maybe 1 call every couple weeks instead of the 5-6 calls I used to receive!
Please understand how detrimental any changes to the existing law would be to me and my family and leave things the way they are today!

Thank you for your time and consideration.
